DyDo GROUP HOLDINGS and Fujitsu Announce Partnership for Joint Management of Information Systems

Osaka, Tokyo, September 12, 2019 – DyDo GROUP HOLDINGS (DyDo GHD) and Fujitsu today announced a partnership agreement for the joint operation of DyDo's information systems division. Under the agreement, Dydo GHD's information systems division's functions, personnel, and operations would be transferred to a Fujitsu subsidiary, IT Management Partners Limited. In the future, IT Management Partners will provide DyDo GHD with reliable, comprehensive information systems development, operations, and maintenance services.

By leveraging Fujitsu's IT resources and know-how, DyDo GHD is shifting its focus to IT planning and establishing an IT organization that makes direct contributions to management and business through the use of leading-edge technologies (AI, IoT, etc.) to maximize return on investment. Fujitsu's IT human resource development program will empower the two partners to achieve the overall optimization of the DyDo Group's IT operations and realize new value through innovation in technology.

This new partnership, resulting in the creation of IT Management Partners, represents the first step for Fujitsu and DyDo GHD toward strengthening their relationship to deliver integrated support for IT operations. By contributing to improvements to the management of IT operations in the context of the DyDo's area of business, Fujitsu ultimately aims to ~~gain new knowhow and~~ expand its footprint in the beverage industry, while further demonstrating a commitment to co-creation as a leading digital innovation partner.
